

DESCRIPTION

The stainless steel razor with a cork handle is a versatile and practical tool with a natural and ecological touch. It is designed with high-quality materials to provide durability and strength in various situations. This knife has a sharp stainless steel blade that allows you to make precise and efficient cuts. Its cork grip gives it a unique and pleasant touch, as well as being a sustainable option by using a natural and renewable material. The knife also includes a carrying strap, allowing you to carry it comfortably and safely. You can adjust the tape around your wrist or hang it from your backpack or bag, ensuring you always have it on hand when you need it. The presentation in an eco-design box highlights the sustainable approach of this product. Cork is an environmentally friendly material, as it is sustainably sourced without harming cork oak trees. By choosing this razor with a cork grip and presenting it in an eco-design box, you promote environmental awareness and the protection of our natural resources.
